HARRY HEILMANN'S HOME RUNS

Courtesy of Walt Wilson

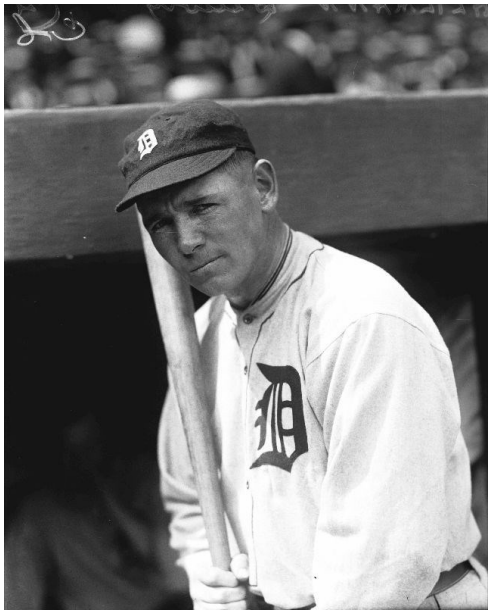
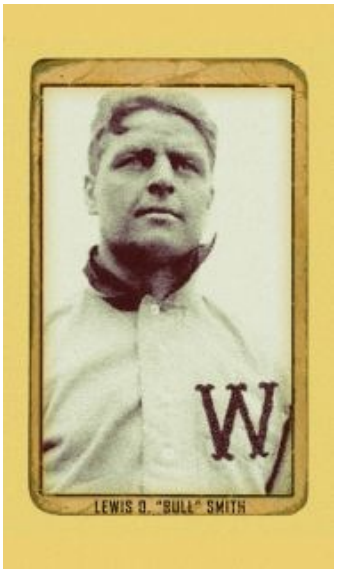
Harry Heilmann hit 183 home runs in his career. He hit 164 of them in his 15 years with the Detroit Tigers. (1914, 1916-29). The other 19 came with the Cincinnati Reds in 1930. The odd part is that in his 15 years in the American League, Heilmann never hit a home run at League Park in Cleveland, where the Indians played during his career.

This is a list of all 183 Heilmann home runs.
12 at Boston AL
10 at Chicago AL
0 at Cleveland AL
84 at Detroit AL
9 at New York AL (5 at Polo Grounds, 4 at Yankee Stadium)
27 at Philadelphia AL (including 10 in 1922)
19 at St. Louis (Sportsman's Park) 18 in AL; 1 in NL
4 at Washington AL
2 at Boston NL
2 at Brooklyn NL
4 at Chicago NL
4 at Cincinnati NL
2 at New York NL
2 at Philadelphia NL
2 at Pittsburgh NL



A RUN BATTED IN FOR LEWIS "BULL" SMITH



Although runs batted in did not become an official statistic until 1920, we do try to get as accurate account of them as possible in previous years. In the case of Bull Smith, it would jump his lifetime total from zero to one.

We first reported on Smith's missing RBI in the October 1993 Records Committee newsletter. Former member Jim Troisi discovered that on August 31, 1904, Smith, of Pittsburgh, hit an eighth-inning triple that scored Moose McCormick with the go-ahead run in the Pirates 7–3 win over Boston.

The RBI was verified by Bill Deane, then the Senior Research Associate at the Hall of Fame, but because of an error on his "official sheet," Smith was never credited with the RBI. I had a recent note from Cliff Blau wondering if the RBI was taken away or just never credited to him. The answer is it has yet to be credited to him.

SHUTOUTS CAUGHT BY FOUR CATCHERS WHO LATER BECAME MANAGERS

Courtesy of Walt Wilson, here are the shutouts caught by four of the many catchers who later became managers: Joe Torre, Wilbert Robinson, Bob Rodgers, and Brad Ausmus . Pitchers who had a Game Started with a catcher but no shutouts with him are not shown. In some cases, there is a discrepancy in total games caught between Baseball-Reference and Retrosheet.

SHUTOUTS CAUGHT BY JOE TORRE

Joe Torre played for Milwaukee (NL) 1960-65; Atlanta (NL) 1966-68; St. Louis (NL) 1969-74; and New York (NL) 1975-77. He had no games caught in 1960 and 1971-77. Torre caught  games; 60 were shutouts.

WORE A UNIFORM, SAT ON THE BENCH, BUT DID NOT PLAY

More players who spent time on a team's roster during a season, wore a uniform, but never got into a game—or so we think. The definition might include: must be under contract with the big league club, be eligible to play, and be in uniform at some time. Nevertheless, we asked members to send in players they know fit this category and here are a bunch more.
