Lewis Carl Found

Captain Lewis Carl was in the Army during the Civil War. After the war was over, he began playing baseball and first started appearing in box scores around 1867 when he was 32 years old. He played locally in Baltimore as an amateur until he was 44.

On September 9, 1874, the Baltimore team was missing 2 players and got 39 year old Lewis Carl to play one game in the outfield as a substitute.

He appeared in the Baltimore city directory from 1867 to 1883. Then he disappears and turns up in the Newark, New Jersey city directory. In 1885, his wife filed for Civil War pension benefits as a widow. Richard Malatzky wrote Debbi Dagavarian-Bonar to ask if she could locate a death record for him. Debbi found his death certificate showing his name as Lewis Adolph Carl and his death as May 19, 1885 in Newark. Great work by Richard and Debbi who share the Find of the Month award. (It's a shame that Carl never learned how to spell his last name correctly.)

Henry Weber Found

In 1885, Henry Weber put an ad in Sporting Life requesting a job as a ballplayer. He listed his address as 245 W. 5th Street in Indianapolis. The 1885 Indianapolis city directory showed him at that address as a finisher. The 1870 census showed him with his sisters, Emma, Ida, and Tilda. In 1920, he was listed age 57 and a hardwood finisher. Richard Malatzky found him dying December 22, 1926 in Indianapolis. The obituary listed sisters Ida and Matilda. Obviously, we have our man. Good work by Richard.

William Coyle Found

Bob Richardson had done research on William Claude Coyle. Bob discovered that Coyle was born in 1871 or 1872 in Kentucky and grew up in Pittsburgh. Coyle married Nellie Curtis and they had 3 children: Billy (1914), Albert (1916), and Betty (1918).

Richard Malatzky searched the online California death index and found William C. Coyle born 09/20/1871 in Kentucky and died 06/04/1941 in San Francisco. Coyle's son, William C. Coyle, Jr. born in Pennsylvania, also died in California as well. Obviously, this is our ballplayer.

George Taylor Found

George Taylor, non-playing manager for Brooklyn in 1884, has been found by Richard Malatzky. Richard read in the New York Clipper that George J. Taylor, manager of the Brooklyn club, was a college graduate born November 22, 1852 in New York City. He received his Master of Arts in 1876 and became a newspaper editor. He was told by his doctor that he needed to get out in the fresh air more often, so he quit his editor's job and applied for the Brooklyn manager's job and was accepted. (Times were different back then.)

Richard checked the city directory and found a George J. Taylor, listed as an editor, at 359 W. 32nd Street. The 1900 census listed George J. Taylor, born November 1853, living at the same address with his wife, Annie, and 4 children. He then checked the New York City deaths and located the October 28, 1911 death date. The New York Herald carried the following obituary:

"Mr. George J. Taylor, 58, formerly news editor of the Herald and later employed in the Corporation Council, graduated from St. Francis Xavier College in 1876 with a Master of Arts. He was one of the first stockholders of the Brooklyn Baseball Club. He was an editor for 30 years. He was baseball writer for the New York Herald and patented a system to communicate billiards scores via telegraph."

Charlie Hodnett Found

Charlie Hodnett pitched for St. Louis (AA) in 1884 and St. Louis (UA) in 1884. He had a pretty decent record for such a brief career, going 14-4 with a 1.88 ERA.

Jay Sanford traced the Hodnett family and found the family burial plot at Calvary Cemetery in St. Louis. Charlie was buried there and he died April 25, 1890 in St. Louis. We still need his date of birth.

Fred Gunkle Found

Fred Gunkle, who played one game for Cleveland in 1879, has been found by Richard Malatzky and Peter Morris. Gunkle was born in Reading, Pennsylvania and they tracked him to Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Gunkle was apparently a well-known name in Sioux Falls. Peter contacted Donna Harr of the Sioux Valley Genealogical Society who was very instrumental in finding Gunkle. Donna located a record from the Sioux Falls masons showing that Gunkle died December 21, 1936, but it didn't list a place.

Richard then checked the online California death index which only goes back to 1940 and found the death of Gunkle's wife Emma. Richard then found someone to check the earlier California death indexes and found Gunkle's death listed in Alameda County. When Richard found the death certificate, it stated that he died in Long Beach, which is not in Alameda County. His residence was listed as Indianapolis, so it is possible there is an obituary there if anyone would like to look one up. This was a great find.

Albert Krumm Found

Albert Krumm was definitely from the Pittsburgh area. Richard Malatzky managed to locate the family in the online California death index. He discovered that the Krumm's son, Oliver, died March 5, 1967 in San Diego. Richard was then able to find Albert's death on June 15, 1937 in San Diego. He was born January 13, 1865 in Pittsburgh. What a great month this was!

How Did These Guys Just Vanish?

There are four missing ballplayers that played at least 10 years in the major leagues:

Jack Remsen	10 years
Mike McGeary	11 years
Charley Jones	12 years
George Shaffer	13 years

You'd think someone would have found them by now.

New Members

Please welcome Lee Ortenstein to the biographical committee. Lee's address is 3002 Rue Renoir #100, South Bend, Indiana 46615 and his code number will be O3.

2000 Rookie List

Attached is the 2000 rookie list. Many thanks to Pete Palmer for his help in putting this list together. And congratulations are in order for Pete as he just got married.

There were 204 rookies who made their debut in 2000. Many of these, you will note, we are missing their middle name. Any help with that would be appreciated. There were not many family connections among these players, but we do have Mike Bell, son of Buddy, grandson of Gus, brother of David, D. T. Cromer, brother of Tripp, Tim Drew, brother of J. D., Jason Grilli, son of Steve, and Damon Minor, twin brother of Ryan.

The oldest rookie was Joe Strong, who at 37, was the oldest man to debut since Diomedes Olivo staggered to the mound at 41 in 1960. The youngest was Rafael Furcal, who was 19 and became the first major league player born in the 1980s. The tallest was Damon Minor at 6-07; the shortest was a tie between Daniel Garibay, Victor Gonzalez, Rodney Lindsey, and James Rollins who were all 5-08. (Where have you gone, Freddie Patek?)

We had the first 2 players ever with the last name of Ginter and they were not related. We had the second player ever named D'Amico, a pitcher named Jeff same as the first one. We had the first player ever named Elvis. We had a Yohanny and a Yovanny, the first players with either of those names. We also had a Nickle and a Penny. We also had Matt Williams become the first major leaguer born in Virginia Beach, Virginia, which up until now, was the largest city never to be the birthplace of a major leaguer. Finally, my favorite name among all the new players is Talmadge Raphael Nunnari.

The Baseball Digest List

Here is the next installment of the list of missing ballplayers published in the September 1962 edition of Baseball Digest:

Patrick Meaney - Died 10/20/1922 in Philadelphia, although there is some question whether this is really our player

Spencer Pumpelly - Alive in 1962. Died 12/05/1973 in Sayre, Pennsylvania. Still the most recent player for whom we don't know how he batted.

Cliff Aberson - Alive in 1962. Died 06/23/1973 in Vallejo, California

Patrick Griffin - Died 06/07/1927 in Youngstown, Ohio.

William Schindler - Alive in 1962. Died 02/06/1979 in Perryville, Missouri. They should have named this list after him.

Willis Koenigsmark - Alive in 1962. Died 07/01/1972 in Waterloo, Illinois.

Louis Bauer - Alive in 1962. Died 02/04/1979 in Pomona, New Jersey

Ray Shook - Alive in 1962. Died 09/16/1970 in South Bend, Indiana.

George Clark - Died 11/14/1940 in Sioux City, Iowa

Albert Smith - Still missing although Richard Malatzky is hot on his trail.

Birthday List

Here are the nonagenarians celebrating birthdays in November and December:

November 2	Elon Hogsett	97
November 8	John Stoneham	92
November 17	Rolland Stiles	94
November 24	Billy Rogell	96
December 10	Floyd Giebell	91
December 11	George Coffman	90
December 16	Emil Mailho	91
December 17	Karl Swanson	100
December 23	Solomon Carter	92
December 25	Joe Moore	92
	Alta Cohen	92

A Very Short Mystery

We know nothing about O'Rourke, 1872 Brooklyn pitcher. Find him. He is our Mystery of the Month.
