Survey Results Man Bite, Dog Department:

shows just how much the membership cares Other: 42 votes. for the Minor League Committee, and how willing it is to help make it a success.

First, I sent out some 270 questionnaires, of which I received 111 responses. I feel the response rate is quite good considering that 30 went to board League Directory. members and committee chairs and people in OB (both past and present), 20 or so went to those who are no longer members of SABR (which I found out after mailing them out), another 30 went to people I just found out were on Dave Kemp's committee roster (which he just got around to sending me), so they would not have had enough time to time being, there will be no vice chair, so respond yet.

In this Issue

two most requested pieces of information: like to state that I want this committee to be as What members are working on; and what are each committee member's interests. This just has to be the first item we have to get out to the membership. Also, I've included three Top 12 lists: Members' suggestions for committee projects; members' suggestions for what to include in the newsletter, and 12 interesting ideas. I chose 12 ideas which—though only mentioned by one or at most two people—I found to be particularly interesting. While just about every idea suggested seemed wellthought out, I found these 12 ideas especially compelling. And, on the last page, I was able to include two research requests.

Other Survey Results

Fully over a 100 members said they would be willing to at least spend some time helping other members with research requests. (Of the ten who preferred not to be asked, a number would face conflicts because they are employed in OB.) The breakdown is To Be Asked: 10 members slim margin of 43 to 42. ("Other" included room. See'ya next time!

he results of the survey are in, everything from weekly to no preference. and I must say I was extremely Thank God Weekly didn't win! My wife pleased by the time taken to fill would divorce me!) Anyway, the results out the Questionnaire, and came out like this: Quarterly: 43 votes; Biheartened by the responses. It Monthly: 15 votes; Monthly: 11 votes;

> The one area where the survey didn't quite work out as well as I thought was the Research Materials Available question (see sidebar). But we'll see if can rectify this matter in time to include it in the Minor

Committee News

In news of the Minor League Committee, the first thing I must mention is that I have taken over from Jaime Selko as committee chair. My hope is to make this committee as responsive to committee members' needs as humanly possible. For the everything will fall on my shoulders. My goal is to catch up on the committee needs that have In this issue, we have included the not been met in the last few years. I'd also open as possible to all members, not just one small group of researchers: We're all in this together! (It wasn't that long ago that I, too, was new to minor league research.)

In a bit of good news for the ML Committee, our budget has been approved for next year. Included in the budget is money for a ML Committee Directory, which many of you have expressed interest in having us produce. I hope to have it in your hands early next year. It will include every member, their address and phone numbers, their interests and projects working on, and resources. The newsletter will come out quarterly, and contain 10 pages instead of 8.

Fatures Issues

Future issues include many of the suggestions made by you. Also, I have some special articles planned: Bob Hoie's list of all Final Season Averages done by members; and his list of list of all "Less Than's" as follows: Causiderable Time: 37 members; included in The Sporting News; Larry A Little Time: 64 members; Preferred Not Zuckerman's article of how to do Ballpark research; my articles on microfilm and As to the poll of members on how computer software for ML researchers; and often they would like the newsletter some things I came across while reading The published. Quarterly edged out "Other" by a Sporting News in the privacy of my own ell, as Jack Kerouac once said: "Walking on water wasn't built in a day." What I thought seemed obvious apparently wasn't as obvious as I first thought. In the survey question "Resource Material Available," some members weren't sure what we were looking for, others gave us information that really wasn't germane to ML research. and still others only gave us parts of what we were looking for. Even I have to admit I didn't fill it out as well as I could have.

I would like all members to redo this one question and send it to me before the end of the year so I can include it in the ML Directory coming out early next year.

What We Are Looking For

Primarily, what we need are a list of resources that ML researchers can tap when it's difficult to come up with the info by their normal sources. What we use for research are basically guides and newspapers, plus whatever personal resources each member has created himself. (This last item may be too large to list in any great detail, and thus should be listed generically almost.) Most members can list the years the have guides for in a minute or two; the same for microfilm of The Sporting News/Sporting Life. But most members go to a specific library to do research, and so I'd like to ask every member to spend 5 or 10 minutes compiling a list of newspapers on microfilm for the committee. Every library I have been in has a 3-ring notebook with a list of microfilm holdings in area libraries.

The Editor Goes to the Library

To give you an example of what's needed, let me use myself as an example. At home I have guides for the following years: 1880-89; 1904-14; 16-22; 27-33; 39; 47-57. I also have Sporting Life microfilm for 1904; 13; 16; and Sporting News for the 1916-31 period; and 37-41 period.

I do research at two libraries: UCSD and S. D. State, and it wouldn't be that difficult to go to the S. D. Public Library. At UCSD, I sat down with the 3-ring notebook to find the following list of papers, including the incredible Texas holdings at State, which I never would have guessed, even though I do most of my work there (they must have had a librarian from Texas at some point, which I believe happens more than we might have thought):

Where	Newspaper	Dates
State	SF Examiner	1890-1927
State	San Antonio TX Dality Light	1905-20
State	El Paso TX Times	1884-1921
State	Sacramento Bee	1857-present
State	Local SD Papers	1889-present
State	Atta California	1849-91
UCSD	LA Times	1881-present
Public Lib	SF Chronicle	1869-present
	Anyway, this list took me no n	ore than 10 minutes to do. Please help the committee put a list together. Thanks.
