

The following articles have been added to the SABR Research Library. Articles are available on request from Len Levin, 282 Doyle Ave., Providence, R.I. 02906-3355. The cost for copying and mailing is 15 cents a page for up to 99 pages, 11 cents a page for 100 or more pages.

A complete list of the more than 4,500 articles in the Research Library is available from Len Levin at the address above. The cost is $5.00 for copying and mailing. (Note that after many years of holding the line on the cost, increases in copying prices and postal rates have forced an increase.)

You can contact Len at the postal address above, by phone at 401-351-3278, or by E-mail at: lenlevin5@hotmail.com. Len welcomes your additions to the Research Library. Feel free to send them to him at the address above, or to call or send him an E-mail if you have any questions.

-----: Petition by the Massachusetts Historical Commission to have Fenway Park declared a national landmark. 64 pages. Contains a wealth of historical material about the ballpark.

-----: Cobb and Ruth's rivalry on the golf course. 2 pages. Text of article on TheBaseballPage.com about a series of matches between the two in 1941.

Blau, Cliff: 1889 Metropolitans: The trials and tribulations of an independent club. 3 pages. Text of article on seamheads.com.

Brady, Bob: The life and times of Doc Gautreau. 6 pages. Photocopy of article in the Boston Braves Historical Association newsletter, Spring 2011, about a Boston Braves infielder of the 1920s who had a long career as a coach and scout.

Dillon, Nancy: Jail, rehab humble Lenny Dykstra. 2 pages. Text of article in the New York Daily News, November 23, 2011, based on an interview with Dykstra in a California rehab center.

Frommer, Harvey: A catalogue of Yankees nicknames. 4 pages. Nicknames, mostly of players, and their origins. Text of article at Bleacherreport.com.

Genzlinger, Neil: All-Star lineup of TV walk-ons. 5 pages. A light-hearted look at major leaguers who have had cameo roles in TV programs. Text of article in the New York Times, December 23, 2011.

Gietschier, Steven: A good piece of hitting: The 1910 American League batting race. 16 pages. Photocopy of article in Timeline, a publication of the Ohio Historical Society, October-December 2110, about the controversial race for the batting championship between Napoleon Lajoie and Ty Cobb.

Gilbert, Bill: Triple Milestones – 2011. 3 pages. Annual report on batters who had a .300 batting average, 30 home runs and 100 RBIs in 2011.

Gilbert, Bill: Who were the most productive offensive players in 2011? 3 pages. The players are rated on BPA (Bases per Plate Appearance).

Gilbert, Bill: Analyzing the 2012 Hall of Fame vote. 2 pages.

Isgrig, Dwayne: The Great Bambino and three home runs in one World Series game (twice). 4 pages. An examination of how some sportswriters wrote about Babe Ruth's World Series home runs in St. Louis.

Larson, Greg: Baseball nicknames. 4 pages. Photocopy of article in the Jacksonville (Florida) Times-Union, April 13, 1975, about minor-league team nicknames.

Jackson, Frank: Last call for baseball: A Polo Grounds postscript. 5 pages. Text of article at hardballtimes.com, December 7, 2011, about the last baseball game played at the ballpark, a Latin American all-star game in 1963.

Martin, Andrew: Catching up with Tom Shopay. 3 pages. Text of Q&A with the former major leaguer at seamheads.com, October 23, 2011.

Martin, Andrew: The troubled life of Rogers Hornsby. 6 pages. Text of article on The Baseball Historian blog describing Hornsby's many brushes with the legal system.

Martin, Andrew: Catching up with Pete Charton. 3 pages. Text of Q&A with the former Red Sox pitcher.

Martin, Andrew: Catching up with Scott Sauerbeck. 3 pages. Text of Q&A with the former pitcher.

Martin, Andrew: Big trouble for McGraw at The Lambs. 5 pages. Text of article on seamheads.com about a scrap involving McGraw in 1921.

Miller, Richard D.: "Bam! It's going, going, gone!" Harry Hartman and baseball broadcasting. 13 pages. Photocopy of article in Timeline, a publication of the Ohio Historical Society, April-June 2011, about the Cincinnati Reds broadcaster from 1929 to 1944 who was the first to broadcast an entire major-league season.

Nelson, Amy: Dream on a shelf. 8 pages. Text of article on ESPN.com, April 23, 2009, about Matt Harrington, a high school phenom who dreamed of being a big league pitcher and was drafted five times, but never signed.

Nowlin, Bill: First Hispanic Red Sox star: Ted Williams. 4 pages. Text of article in the Boston Globe, June 2, 2002, about Williams's Hispanic roots.

Preston, J.G.: Left-handed-throwing second basemen, shortstops and third basemen. 6 pages. Text of article at prestonjg.wordpress.com.

Rygelski, Jim: Baseball myths old and new. 3 pages. Explores some facets of baseball and their relation to the truth.

Schneider, Russell: How you gonna keep him down on the farm? 10 pages. Photocopy of article in the Cleveland Plain Dealer Sunday Magazine, May 4, 1980, about Jerry Dybzinski and six other players from Ohio who were hoping to advance to the Indians.

Warrington, Bob: Inaugural season: The 1883 Phillies. 5 pages. Photocopy of article in Along the Elephant Trail, the newsletter of the Philadelphia Athletics Historical Society.