Sam Landis Found

Samuel (Doc) Landis pitched one season in the big leagues. He began the 1882 season with Philadelphia in the American Association. He was released by Philadelphia in May and then signed with Baltimore in the AA and finished the season there. He had a truly memorable year, posting a 12-29 record and leading the league in losses.

In 1883, he married Ida Weidner in Reading, Pennsylvania. After that, his whereabouts become a bit murky. We could never find a census entry that connected him to Ida and nobody in the 1900 census appears to be him. There was a Samuel Landis who died July 1, 1908 in Philadelphia. We had long suspected this to be our ballplayer as he was the right approximate age. The problem was that there was nothing on the death certificate to point to him being our ballplayer.

Dixie Tourangeau was able to contact a descendent on Ancestry who gave him this information:

He was married to Mary Ida Weidner on Aug. 1, 1883 and they were divorced by 1890. They had two children Floyd (my great great grandfather) and Mary C. They were living in Philadelphia when the children were born. Sam was born Aug. 16, 1854 and Died July 1, 1908. If I remember correctly the cause for divorce was abandonment. That's where the family information ends on Sam.

Floyd (Pop-Pop Landis to the family) was also a Baseball Player for a short time using the name of "Patsy Flanagan". He was well known of Vaudeville along with his daughter, My great grandmother Fern (stage name "Baby Fern Flanagan"). Floyd, as an adult, played semi-professional baseball in the outfield for the Robesons in the Old City baseball league. I haven't visited his grave site, it should take a drive out and have a look. He is buried in Broomall. I'm not sure if he remarried or had other children. I'm going to have to go thru my photo CDs to find his baseball photo and add it to his memorial. I thought I had already done that.

The descendent even has a baseball photo. This pretty well confirms that we have our missing player and Dixie wins our Find of the Month award.

2023 Rookies

Attached you will find the 2023 rookie list. There were 261 rookies and 3 non-playing managers. Here is some data on the rookies. The oldest rookie by far was Drew Maggi, born 05/16/1989. The youngest was, appropriately enough, Junior Caminero, born 07/05/2003. The tallest was Lane Ramsay at 6-09. The shortest, at 5-06, were Dominic Fletcher and Clayton Andrews. The lightest was Junior Caminero at 157. The heaviest was Luken Baker at 280.

There are several relatives. Brice Turang is the son of Brian Turang. Grae Kessinger is the grandson of Don Kessinger and the nephew of Keith Kessinger. Dominic Fletcher is the brother of David Fletcher. Parker Meadows is the brother of Austin Meadows. Carson Spiers is the nephew of Bill Spiers. Kyle Harrison is the grandson of Skip Guinn. Finally, I give my favorite name. Not too many stand out, but the name Slade Cecconi sounds kind of cool.

Two Current Deaths

There are two ballplayers who have been reported as deceased but we have not been able to confirm the deaths of either of them. One is Robert Giallombardo who pitched for the Dodgers in 1958. The other is Jim Woods who played for the Cubs in 1957 and the Phillies in 1960-61. Hopefully, one of you can confirm their deaths. This is our Mystery of the Month.
