

Accurate Runs-Scored Records for Players of the Deadball Era: The Players on the 1907 Detroit Tigers

By Herm Krabbenhoft

APPENDIX

Appendix 1: RESEARCH PROCEDURE

For each of the 693 runs scored by the Tigers in 1907 I sought to obtain three critical components: (a) the identity of the player who scored the run; (b) the details of the run-scoring event [e.g., a 2-RBI double, a balk, a 1-RBI grounder (batter safe on a fielding error), a 0-RBI grounder (batter safe on a fielding error), a 1-RBI bases-loaded walk, etc.]; and (c) the identity of the player who completed his plate appearance during the run-scoring event (i.e., the player who could be credited with batting in the run). And, because runs batted in were not recorded officially until 1920, and were not even defined officially until 1931, I followed the 1931 official scoring rules [Rule 70, Section 13] to credit or to not credit a player with an RBI — “Runs Batted In are runs scored on safe hits (including home runs), sacrifice hits, outfield put-outs, infield put-outs, and when the run is forced over by reason of the batsman becoming a base-runner. With less than two outs, if an error is made on a play on which a runner from third would ordinarily score, credit the batsman with a Run Batted In.” I then provided the complete documentation that I assembled to Retrosheet’s Tom Ruane and Dave Smith for their independent review, upon which we achieved 100% agreement and Retrosheet incorporated all of the runs-scored numbers in its Box Score file (and derived Player Daily files).

Appendix 2: THE RUNS SCORED By CHARLIE O’LEARY in 1907.

The following chart presents a transcription of the runs-scored information as given in his official DBD records. It is emphasized that the entries are not in chronological order — because the performance lines were not always entered on the official DBD sheets in chronological order. When a “Date” is not in chronological order, it is shown in boldface and bracketed by double asterisks.

Appendix 3: NEWSPAPER ACCOUNTS of SELECTED GAMES

June 10, 1907 — Detroit at New York — Detroit Scored 3 runs

Sixth Inning — Detroit scored 2 runs

Detroit Free Press (DFP) — “Crawford’s double and misplays by Elberfeld and Chase gave Detroit two runs in the sixth. Chase’s error was peculiar. O’Leary grounded along the right foul line. Chase scooped the ball and there was a sprint for the bag, O’Leary getting there first. Chase thought it was an out and rolled the ball to the pitcher’s box and started to come into the bench. Schaefer went home on this play.” [NOTE: This DFP description is identical to that given in the NYSUN account.]

Detroit Journal (DJ) — Nothing at all.

Detroit News (DN) — Nothing at all.

New York Evening World (NYEWLD) — “Crawford hit for two bases. Cobb was thrown out by Laporte, Crawford reaching third. Rossman [was] out, Doyle to Chase. Schaefer hit to Elberfeld, and on the latter’s wild throw the batter reached second and Crawford scored O’Leary beat a hit to Chase, and as the latter tossed the ball to the pitcher’s box Schaefer scored, but O’Leary was caught at second on Doyle’s throw to Elberfeld.”

New York Herald (NYHLD) — “Detroit drew its first blood in the sixth, when Crawford led off with a two bagger. Cobb and Rossman were stopped at first, and then Schaefer hammered out a single, scoring Crawford. Schaefer took second on Elberfeld’s bad throw to Chase and scored on O’Leary’s scratch hit, racing across the plate while the Yankees were arguing over [umpire] Sheridan’s decision at first. O’Leary tried to steal second and was caught.”

New York Press (NYPRS) — “The Tigers clawed a couple of runs in the sixth on Crawford’s double, Elberfeld’s error, and O’Leary’s single. O’Leary beat Chase in a sprint to first, though Chase thought otherwise. While Chase was recovering the ball which he had thrown a few feet away, [umpire] Sheridan calling O’Leary safe, Schaefer ran home.”

New York Sun (NYSUN) — “Crawford’s double and misplays by Elberfeld and Chase gave Detroit two runs in the sixth. Chase’s error was peculiar. O’Leary grounded along the right foul line. Chase scooped the ball and there was a sprint for the bag, O’Leary getting there first. Chase thought it was an out and rolled the ball to the pitcher’s box and started to come into the bench. Schaefer went home on this play.” [NOTE: No other details were provided in the NYSUN account.]

New York Times (NYT) — “Crawford, first up, cracked a long one for two sacks to left. Cobb and Rossman were retired, and Schaefer banged hard to Elberfeld. The latter made a fine stop, but threw inaccurately to Chase and Crawford crossed the rubber. O’Leary rapped one to Chase, who made a sensational stop and ran to first, but not in time to catch O’Leary. Chase believed that he had his man all right, and threw the ball into the pitcher’s box. There was no one there to take charge of it, and Schaefer trotted across the plate. O’Leary, however, was nailed by Chase’s throw to second.”

New York Tribune (NYTRB) — Nothing at all.

Eighth Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

DFP — “Crawford scored in the eighth on a base on balls, a hit batsman, another force, and Schaefer’s single.” [NOTE: This DFP description is identical to that given in the NYSUN account; see also the Note in the NYSUN description of the eighth inning.]

DJ — Nothing at all.

DN — Nothing at al.

NYEWLD — “Coughlin walked. Crawford forced Coughlin at second, Chase to Elberfeld. Cobb was hit in the foot. Rossman forced Cobb, Chase to Elberfeld, Crawford reaching third. Downs singled to left, Crawford scoring while Rossman took second. O’Leary forced Downs, Williams to Elberfeld.” [NOTE: See also the Notes in the descriptions for the ninth inning in the NYSUN and DFP accounts.]

NYHLD — “Crawford scored again in the eighth for the Tigers.”

NYPRS — “Crawford counted in the eighth on his force of Coughlin, a hit batsman, and Downs’s one-bagger.”

NYSUN — “Crawford scored in the eighth on a base on balls, a hit batsman, another force, and Schaefer’s single.” [NOTE: This NYSUN description (which states that Crawford scored on Schaefer’s single) is not in alignment with the batter-by-batter play-by-play description given in the NYWLD account, which states that Crawford scored on Downs’s single. It is further noted that the NYSUN box score does not include Downs. The NYWLD description states that “Downs replaced Schaefer at second” in the bottom half of the seventh inning.]

NYT — “Detroit’s last run was the result of a base on balls, a force by Crawford, a bad inshoot which connected with Cobb’s arm, and Schaefer’s timely hit to left.” [NOTE: This NYT description states that Crawford scored on Schaefer’s single; see Note in NYSUN description. The NYT box score, however, does include Downs, who is shown with one (1) hit.]

NYTRB — “Nothing at all. [NOTE: The NYTRB box score did not include Downs.]

June 21, 1907 — Detroit at Philadelphia — Detroit Scored 5 runs

Second Inning — Detroit scored 2 runs

DFP — “After Rossman was retired in the second, Schaefer beat out a bunt. Davis muffed Schreckengost’s throw of O’Leary’s bunt, and Nichols let Schmidt’s hit go through him, Schaefer scoring and O’Leary taking third. Donovan fanned and on the careless return of the ball to the pitcher by Schreckengost, who bounded it past Waddell, O’Leary ran in from third.”

DJ — “With one out Schaefer beat out a bunt. O’Leary was safe on Davis’s muff of Schreckengost’s throw, and Schaefer scored when Schmidt hit through Nicholls. A careless return of the ball by Schreckengost to Waddell let O’Leary in. The ball just rolled out of Waddell’s reach.”

DN — Nothing at all.

Philadelphia Inquirer (PINQ) — “... the second inning. With Rossman down, Schaefer beat out a slow hit to Collins, and O’Leary was safe on Davis’s muff of Schreckengost’s throw. Schmidt’s grounder was missed by Nicholls, and Schaefer scored, O’Leary going to third. In returning the ball to Waddell Schreckengost rolled it along the ground. It took an awkward bound and, getting away from Waddell, permitted O’Leary to count.”

Philadelphia North American (PNA) — “The nightmare started in the second, when Schaefer beat out a bunt. Schreckengost made a fine throw on O’Leary’s bouncer in front of the plate, but Davis failed to hold the ball. Schmidt tapped an easy one to Nicholls, and one and perhaps both men might have been retired, but the second baseman let the ball roll through him to the outfield, Schaefer counting and O’Leary taking third. Then, with Jones at the bat, Schreckengost made a careless return of the ball, which escaped Waddell, and rolled slowly to short, O’Leary running home.”

Philadelphia Press (PPRS) — “With one out, Schaefer beat out a bunt. Schreckengost made a splendid effort on O’Leary’s bunt, but Davis dropped the throw. Schmidt’s grounder was fumbled by Nicholls and Schaefer scored. Schreckengost made a careless toss to Waddell and the ball rolled toward short, and O’Leary scored. The next two batsmen were then disposed of.”

Philadelphia Public Ledger (PPL) — “With one out in the second, Schaefer bunted safely. O’Leary bunted for a sacrifice and Davis dropped Schreckengost’s throw. Nicholls allowed Schmidt’s easy grounder to go through him and Schaefer scored. In returning the ball to Waddell, Schreckengost threw carelessly, the ball rolling to second base, and O’Leary trotted home.”

Philadelphia Record (PREC) — “Detroit scored two [runs] in the second on Schaefer’s safe bunt, Davis’s muff of Schreckengost’s throw on O’Leary, Nicholls’s fumble of Schmidt’s grounder, and Schreckengost’s poor return of the ball to Waddell, which let O’Leary score.”

Third Inning — Detroit scored 2 runs

DFP — “Coughlin beat out an infield hit. Downs sacrificed. Cobb was out at first on a great stop by Nicholls. Rossman drove in Coughlin and then stole second. Schaefer hit for two bases, scoring Rossman. O’Leary ended the inning with a long fly to Oldring.”

DJ — “Coughlin began with a hit. Downs sacrificed and Cobb was thrown out by Nicholls. Rossman’s clean single scored Coughlin. Rossman stole second and then romped home on Schaefer’s ripping two-bagger.”

DN — Nothing at all.

PINQ — “Coughlin began the third with a single, and got to third on Downs’s and Cobb’s outs, scoring on Rossman’s single. Rossman made a break for second and gained it, Cross miffing Schreckengost’s throw. Schaefer doubled to left, Rossman counting.”

PNA — “Coughlin bunted his way to first, and Downs sacrificed in the the third inning. Nicholls made a fine stop on Cobb. Rossman singled, scoring Coughlin, and, after stealing second, came home on Schaefer’s double.”

PPRS — “Coughlin beat out an infield grounder and Downs sacrificed. Nicholls made a running stop of Cobb’s grounder and got his man at first. Rossman’s single scored Coughlin. Rossman stole second and came home on Schaefer’s double.”

PPL — “In the third Coughlin bunted and beat the throw to first, advancing on Downs’s sacrifice. Nicholls made a fine stop of Cobb’s grounder and got his man at first. Rossman followed with a single, sending Coughlin to third, and Rossman stole second. Schaefer doubled to left scoring Coughlin and Rossman.” [NOTE: This PPL description (stating that Coughlin scored on Schaefer’s double) is not in alignment with the descriptions given in the DFP, DJ, PINQ, PNA, and PPRS accounts which state specifically that Coughlin scored on Rossman’s single. The PPL description is clearly wrong as Coughlin reached first on his bunt single, moved to second on Downs’s sacrifice, advanced to third on Cobb’s groundout, and scored on Rossman’s single.]

PREC — “The Tigers added two more [runs] in the third on Coughlin’s infield hit, Rossman’s single and steal and Schaefer’s double.”

Fourth Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

DFP — “Schmidt got on on Nicholls’s fumble. Donovan beat out a bunt and Jones was safe on a bouncer which Bender failed to hold. With the bases full and none out, Lord got Coughlin’s fly and held the runners on the bag. Downs was hit, forcing in Schmidt with a run. Cobb flied to Cross, and Rossman forced Downs at second.”

DJ — “Schmidt, Donovan, and Jones got bases on the bases with none out. Coughlin flied to Lord, but the runners were held. Bender hit Downs, allowing Schmidt to score.”

DN — Nothing at all.

PINQ — “Bender took Waddell’s place in the box in the fourth. Schmidt was safe on a fumble by Nicholls, and the next two men dropped bunts that rolled safely. Coughlin flied to Lord. Bender grazed the slack in Downs’s bolero, the latter walking and Schmidt counting. Cobb flied to Cross, and Rossman forced Downs.”

PNA — “Bender now [in the fourth] took up the burden and Nicholls fumbled Schmidt’s grounder. Donovan and Jones beat bunts, filling the bases. Coughlin flied to Lord, and Downs was hit in the arm with a pitched ball, forcing home Schmidt. Cobb flied to Cross and Rossman forced Downs.”

PPRS — “Detroit got another run in the fourth inning. Nichols fumbled Schmidt’s grounder and the bases were filled on safe bunts by Donovan and Jones. Coughlin flied to Cross, but Bender hit Downs and Schmidt walked home. Cross got Cobb’s fly and then threw Downs out on Rossman’s grounder.”

PPL — “Bender pitched the fourth. Schmidt reached first on Nicholls’s error and Donovan beat out a bunt. Jones tried to sacrifice and his bunt rolled safely, filling the bases. Coughlin flied to Lord, who held Schmidt on third, but Bender forced Schmidt home by hitting Downs with a pitched ball. Detroit was easy after this.”

PREC — “Detroit had the bases full in the fourth with none out. Nicholls fumbled Schmidt’s grounder, Donovan beat out a bunt, and Jones was safe on an infield hit. But the only run that was scored was forced in when Downs got hit [by a pitched ball].”

July 8, 1907 — Detroit vs. Boston — Detroit Scored 6 runs

First Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

DFP — “[The score] was tied immediately, Coughlin being hit, Crawford getting a single, Cobb bunting safely, and Rossman’s grounder being fumbled by Knight, letting Coughlin home. The other three were left.”

DJ — Nothing at all.

DN — Nothing at all.

Boston Globe (BG) — “In the first inning Coughlin was hit by a pitched ball, [and] a line drive by Crawford, Cobb’s scratch single, and Knight’s fumble in attempting to catch Rossman put him over the plate.”

Boston Herald (BH) — “Detroit tied it [1-1] in its half [of the first], Coughlin being hit [by a pitched ball]. Crawford singled and Cobb beat a bunt, filling the bases. Knight lost Rossman’s grounder, Coughlin scoring. The bases were left filled on Schaefer’s short fly and O’Leary’s infield out.”

Boston Post (BP) — “In the opening inning, Detroit scored one [run] on Coughlin’s Red Cross hit, singles by Crawford and Cobb, and Knight’s fumble.”

Sixth Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

DFP — “Detroit tied it again in the sixth [2-2] on Cobb’s single, a sacrifice, and Schaefer’s double.”

DJ — Nothing at all.

DN — Nothing at all.

BG — “In the sixth Cobb singled to center, was sacrificed to second by Rossman’s roller to Pruiett, and came all the way home when Schaefer’s poke to left took a lucky bound, and, getting away from Barrett, became a two-bagger.”

BH — “... until the sixth, Detroit scoring then on Cobb’s single and Schaefer’s double.”

BP — “... until Detroit’s half of the sixth, when Cobb opened with a single and went around on Rossman’s sacrifice and Schaefer’s horseshoe two-bagger that got away from Barrett by a lucky bounce against the left field fence.”

Eighth Inning — Detroit scored 3 runs

DFP — “Crawford started the Detroit half [of the eighth] with a two-sack rap. Ferris grabbed Cobb’s boulder back of second too late for a play. He made a throw to Unglaub, however, and the ball hit the cushion, Crawford scoring before it was recovered. Rossman’s slow hit to short was safe and there were enough men on the bases to tie it up, if they could come home. Schaefer sacrificed. Cobb scored while O’Leary was being thrown out. Meantime a hurry call had been issue for Schmidt to replace Archer at the bat. The first ball over Schmidt met full, and it sailed out to center field for a single, on which Rossman registered the run that made it an entirely new game.”

DJ — “Crawford doubled. Cobb hit to Ferris too far away for the throw, but Ferris threw it anyway, hitting the bag and permitting Crawford to score. Rossman made a masse shot to short, which rolled too slowly and foolish like for Parent to deliver it to first in Rossman’s van. Schaefer helped the game along with a beautiful sacrifice along the first base white line. O’Leary grounded to short in scoring manner and Cobb went across while O’Leary was being tossed out. [Manager] Jennings asked that time be called and sent Schmidt to bat in Archer’s stead. Schmidt leaned into one of his liking and sent it to right for a base, scoring Rossman with the tying tally. Mullin connected with one to bowl the ball down to the pitcher to die at first without running.”

DN — Nothing at all.

BG — “Crawford smashed the ball to the center field fence for a double and Cobb helped Crawford to third by a single to center. Ferris, in an attempt to get Cobb at first, threw wild and Crawford scored. Rossman came along with a single, putting Cobb on third, and Schaefer’s bunt roller for an out at first put Cobb over. Schmidt was put in to hit for Archer, and with a single scored Rossman.” [NOTE: This BG description (stating that Cobb scored on Schaefer’s sacrifice bunt) is not in alignment with the descriptions given in the DFP, DJ, BH, and BP game accounts, which state that Schaefer’s sacrifice advanced Cobb from second to third and Rossman from first to second and that Cobb scored on O’Leary’s groundout, short to first.]

BH — “Crawford doubled and Cobb singled, Crawford scoring. Rossman got an infield hit, and Schaefer sacrificed the pair along. Cobb scored while O’Leary was being thrown out. Schmidt was brought in to bat for Archer, and his swell drive to centre sent Rossman home with the tying run.”

BP — “Crawford opened the [eighth] inning by a double against the centre field fence. Cobb beat out his drive to Ferris, and Crawford advanced. On Ferris’s wide throw to catch Cobb, Crawford cantered home. Rossman singled to centre and Schaefer sacrificed cleverly. Parent got O’Leary at first, but Cobb scored and Rossman took third. At this stage, [manager] Jennings benched Archer and called in Schmidt. His fine single to centre brought in Rossman with the tying run.”

Fourteenth Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

DFP — “Sullivan was playing in for a possible short hit by Schmidt, and the catcher fooled him by driving one away over his head to the center field fence. When it was retrieved Schmidt was pulled up at third. Siever slammed it over Parent’s head into left field for a single, Schmidt tallying the winning run.”

DJ — “Schmidt ... bla-bla-bla .. [hit a triple]. Siever ... [with] the infield playing close in, in anticipation of a short poke to one of its number ... bla-bla-bla [hit the ball over the infielders and] ... sent Schmidt across with the winning run in the fourteenth inning.’

DN — “It was Schmidt in the fourteenth, at the psychological moment. He, first man up, caught the ball on the nose for a triple to center. And Siever was there to win his own game by a pretty single that shot over Parent’s head.”

BG — “In the 14th, Schmidt drove the ball over Sullivan’s head for three bases and scored on Siever’s unintentional single.”

BH — “In Detroit’s half [of the fourteenth] Schmidt hit over Sullivan’s head for three bases and Siever punched a single into left, [scoring Schmidt and] ending a long and hard fought contest.”

BP — “It was Schmidt, whose triple in the 14th proved the main factor in getting the run which broke the long tie.” [NOTE: No other information was provided in the BP account.]

July 10, 1907 — Detroit vs. New York — Detroit Scored 9 runs

First Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

DFP — “One [was] gone, Coughlin singled. Crawford hit through Elberfeld. Cobb drove Coughlin home, but the ball brushed Field Umpire Stafford’s coat before he could get out of the path, and Coughlin was sent back to third. Rossman’s fly scored Coughlin. The bases were filled again when Schaefer walked, but Newton grabbed O’Leary’s grounder, ending the inning.”

DJ — “Coughlin got the first of his four hits of the game. Crawford dittoed and Cobb sailed one through the box that nipped Umpire Stafford’s coat tail. Coughlin was at third and went home, but the umpire ordered him back because the ball had hit the blue clothes. Cobb was given a hit and his base and the bags were full. Rossman was up and swung valiantly. Finally he flew to center and Coughlin came home. Schaefer walked, again choking the bases, but the best that O’Leary could do ... bla-bla-bla ... [hit the ball to Newton who] tossed it girl-like to Chase for the third out.”

DN — “The Tigers opened the scoring in the first. Coughlin beat a bunt and Crawford and Cobb singled. Cobb’s drive through the box, however, touched Umpire Stafford and he would not let Coughlin score. With the bases full, Rossman flied to center, letting in one run. Schaefer walked and the bases were again filled, but O’Leary rolled to Newton.”

NYEWLD — “Laporte got Downs’s drive. Coughlin singled. Crawford singled, Coughlin taking third. Cobb singled, but the ball touched Umpire Stafford, holding Coughlin at third. Rossman flied to Hoffman, Coughlin scoring. Schaefer walked. Newton and Chase got O’Leary.”

NYHLD — Nothing at all.

NYPRS — “The Tigers counted once in the first on three singles.”

Second Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

DFP — “Archer’s fly fell safely in the outfield, and Donovan forced him a second base. Downs fanned. Newton tossed past Chase in an attempt to catch Donovan napping, and the runner made third. This error directly cost a run, Donovan being able to score off Coughlin’s hit to deep short, on which Elberfeld was unable to make a throw. Without the error Donovan would have been left at second when Crawford fouled out.”

DJ — “The other run came in the second, when Donovan got life after forcing Archer at second, went to second [should be ‘third’] when Newton overthrew first in one of his series of tries to pick [him] off, and scored on Coughlin’s single.”

DN — “The Tigers added another [run] in the second when Archer singled. He was forced by Donovan and Downs fanned. But Newton tried to catch Donovan off first and threw wild, Donovan taking third. He scored when Coughlin singled to short.”

NYEWLD — “Archer singled. Donovan forced Archer, Newton to Elberfeld. Downs fanned. Donovan took third on Newton’s wild throw to catch him napping. Coughlin singled, Donovan scoring. Crawford fouled to Moriarty.”

NYHLD — Nothing at all.

NYPRS — “The Tigers counted again in the second on two hits and Newton’s wild throw.”

NYSUN — Nothing at all.

NYT — “Another run was secured in the second on singles by Archer and Coughlin and a couple of infield outs.”

NYTRB — Nothing at all.

Fourth Inning — Detroit scored 5 runs

DFP — “O’Leary doubled in this [fourth] inning, and Archer beat a swell bunt. Donovan singled O’Leary home, and Downs, there being no one out, sacrificed the battery gents along a base apiece. This brought Coughlin up. [Manager] Griffith elect to have Newton had Coughlin four extremely wide ones. Crawford hit wildly at the first ball pitched and fled to Elberfeld. Ty Cobb, the next batter, planted the sphere against the right field fence for three sacks, relieving the bases of their contents. Cobb himself registered on wild pitch.”

DJ — “O’Leary opened it [the fourth] with a double to left center and Archer and Donovan followed with singles, scoring O’Leary. No one [was] out. Downs was sent up to sacrifice and did it perfectly. Then Coughlin was walked [purposely]. Crawford wheeled savagely into the first ball shot across and raised a little fly to Elberfeld. Cobb, however, wrecked Griffith’s strategy board with a triple to the right field fence, emptying the bases of three runners. Cobbs scored a moment later on a wild pitch. Rossman died at first.”

DN — “O’Leary doubled. Archer beat a bunt to third. Donovan’s clean single over second scored O’Leary. Downs sacrificed. Coughlin came to bat. [Manager] Griffith ordered Newton to walk Coughlin. This filled the bases with Crawford and Cobb coming to bat. Crawford swung at the first ball over and popped to Elberfeld. Cobb lined the ball to the right field fence for three bases, scoring Archer, Donovan, and Coughlin. Cobb scored the fifth run [of the inning] himself on a wild pitch.”

NYEWLD — “O’Leary doubled to left. Archer beat a bunt. Donovan singled, O’Leary scoring. Downs sacrificed, Moriarty to Williams. Coughlin was passed, filling the bases. Crawford popped to Elberfeld. Cobb tripled to right, Archer, Donovan, and Coughlin scoring. A wild pitch let Cobb score. Williams tossed Rossman out.”

NYHLD — Nothing at all.

NYPRS — “O’Leary doubled and the next two men singled, O’Leary scoring on Donovan’s hit. Downs sacrificed, Coughlin fled, and Crawford was purposely passed, filling the bases. The strategic move failed, for Cobb cleaned house with a triple and counted himself on Newton’s wild pitch.” [NOTE: This NYPRS description (which has Coughlin being retired before Crawford was walked intentionally and then scoring on Cobb’s triple) is not in alignment with the descriptions given in the DFPDJ, DN, NYEWLD, and NYT game accounts, which state that Coughlin walked and that Crawford was retired before Cobb hit his bases-loaded triple.]

NYSUN — Nothing at all.

NYT — “In the fourth O’Leary doubled, Archer and Donovan singled, Downs sacrificed, and Coughlin was passed. With two out and the bases filled, Cobb tripled over LaPorte.” [NOTE: This NYT description does not state anything about who scored the runs and does not include what happened after Cobb’s triple.]

NYTRB — “The game was won in the fourth inning. With the bases full, Cobb tripled, bringing in the three men, and scored himself on a wild pitch.” [NOTE: No other information was provided for the five fifth-inning runs.]

Seventh Inning — Detroit scored 2 runs

DFP — “In the seventh Rossman, O’Leary, and Archer all walked. Donovan fanned, but Downs hit to center, scoring Rossman and O’Leary. Downs started for second on a hit and run play, but Coughlin’s drive toward right was so fast that he could not side step the ball, which hit him on the foot. This retired the side.”

DJ — “Rossman, first up, walked. Schaefer sacrificed him to second and he actually stole third. Then O’Leary and Archer were walked. Donovan fanned, but Downs sent across two scores on his line hit to center. Coughlin was up and, on a signal for a hit and run play, Downs started for second. On the way Coughlin's safe poke far away from a fielder hit Downs on the ankle and he was out, retiring the side."

DN — "Moore walked Rossman, O'Leary, and Archer in the seventh. Downs hit to center, scoring Rossman and O'Leary. The Tigers might have kept it up for a while longer, but Coughlin's drive hit Downs on the leg while he was making second on a hit and run play."

NYEWLD — "Rossman walked. Schaefer sacrificed, Williams to Chase. Rossman stole third. O'Leary walked. Archer walked, filling the bases. Donovan fanned. Downs singled to centre, scoring Rossman and O'Leary. Coughlin's drive hit Downs."

NYHLD — Nothing at all.

NYPRS — "Detroit's last runs in the seventh, Moore pitching, were due to three bases on balls and a single by Downs."

NYSUN — Nothing at all.

NYT — "... in the seventh, in which he [Moore] passed Rossman, O'Leary, and Archer and allowed Downs and Coughlin to hit safely."

NYTRB — Nothing at all.

August 29, 1907 — Detroit vs. St. Louis — Detroit Scored 4 runs

Third Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

DFP — “In the third the Tigers took a tally, O'Leary bearing it home. He coaxed the only pass that Glade gave. Killian bunted, and was safe. Jones laid one down, and also made first. This filled the sacks with none gone. But Coughlin struck out, and Crawford hit to Wallace, forcing Jones. O'Leary scored on the play. Wallace threw out Cobb.”

DJ — “The Tigers got their first run in the third. O'Leary walked. Killian and Jones hit and O'Leary went across on Crawford's out at first.”

DN — Nothing at all.”

St. Louis Globe-Democrat (SLGD) — “Detroit gathered a lone run in its half of the [third] inning off a pass to O'Leary, safe bunts by Killian and D. Jones, and an infield out on a force play. Glade emerged finely from the situation he found with the bases full and none out, by striking out Coughlin and holding Crawford and Cobb to infield grounders.”

St. Louis Republic (SLREP) — “O'Leary worked Glade for a pass and was sacrificed to second by Killian. D. Jones sacrificed O'Leary to third, and Crawford hammered hard to Wallace, who broke the drive down, but had no chance to cut off O'Leary at the plate.”

Ninth Inning — Detroit scored 3 runs

DFP — “Cobb started by driving a fast grounder to right, Niles making a great but useless attempt to get to the ball. Rossman stung one over second, which put Cobb at third base. Rossman was taken out, Schaefer going in to run for him. Downs smashed a hit past Niles, the latter knocking down the ball as it was going by, and pursuing it into right field. Cobb scored, but Niles overtook the ball in time to hold Schaefer at second base. Right here Glade went out an Dineen went in. He started proceedings by hitting Schmidt, filling the sacks. This brought up O'Leary. The third ball pitched he smashed into left, Downs followed Schaefer home. Stone made a throw to the plate, but there was no chance to get Downs, and the game was won.”

DJ — “Cobb bent one of Glade's curves into right field beyond the reach of Niles for a base. Rossman laid one high and dry to center field for a base, sending Cobb to third. Downs landed on one. The ball went fast and wide to Niles and rolled into right field. Cobb scored. Schaefer, who was sent in to run for Rossman, was at third. Downs remained at first. Schmidt was up. BLA-BLA-BLA ... [Dineen replaced Glade.] ... [Dineen hit Schmidt with a pitched ball.] ... That filled the bases. ... O'Leary ... [hit the ball] ... over the third bag. Schaefer was over in a jiffy. Stone connected with the ball and slammed it to the plate to head Downs. Spencer got it wide and then dropped it and Downs was safe with the winning run.”

DN — “Cobb singled; Rossman followed suit, Cobb going to third. Schaefer was elected to run the bases for Rossman. Downs made his third hit of the day, scoring Cobb. Then Glade was hauled from the box and Dineen substituted. His first offering was to hit Schmidt with the ball, and the sacks were packed. No one was out when O’Leary picked up his bat and stood at the plate. He landed on one of Dineen’s curves for a single just over Wallace’s head, and Schaefer and Downs raced home.”

SLGD — “Cobb led off the ninth with a sharp hit grounder just out of Niles’s reach. Rossman shot a hot drive over second base on which Cobb took third. Downs hit to Niles, who fumbled, Cobb scoring. There were men on first and second and none out. [Manager] McAleer stopped Glade and sent in Dineen. The first ball Dineen pitched took a sharp shoot toward Schmidt and he was hit on the arm. The sacks were [now] full. O’Leary swung with all his might. Yeager made a frantic stab into the air, but the course of the sphere was too high. Schaefer, who had been substituted on the lines for Rossman, trotted in, and Downs, who had secured a big lead off second before the ball was hit, sprinted over the plate in advance of Stone’s throw.”

SLREP — “Cobb and Rossman started the ninth with singles. Downs tore off a stinging grounder to Niles, who fumbled it and Cobb scored. Manager McAleer took Glade out of the box and sent Dineen to the front to save the game for St. Louis. Dineen lacked control and thumped Schmidt in the ribs with the first ball he pitched. O’Leary followed Schmidt at the bat. O’Leary laced the ball hard to left center, scoring Schaefer and Downs. Schaefer ran for Rossman.”

SUMMARY of the 4 runs scored by the Tigers (newspaper text descriptions)

1 (Third Inning) — O’Leary scored on a 1-RBI fielder’s-choice-force-out by Crawford.

2 (Ninth Inning) — Cobb scored on a 1-RBI single by Downs.

September 3, 1907 — Detroit at Chicago — Detroit Scored 9 runs

First Inning — Detroit scored 3 runs

DFP — “Jones singled into left and Coughlin, after two foul bunts, forced him. Crawford sent one against Donohue’s shins so fast that it bounded across the diamond into left field. Cobb singled to Dougherty, filling the sacks. Rossman chopped the ball towards Tannehill, and sprinted for first. Tannehill threw into the runner, and the ball caromed off Donohue's mitt, into right field. Coughlin would have scored, of course, even on a perfect play. Crawford also registered easily on the error. Cobb made one of his mighty sprints from first and slid over the pan as the ball sank into Sullivan's mitt. The next two batters died on the infield."

DJ — "The Tigers started the scoring in the first inning. Jones singled to center but died on second when Coughlin forced him. Crawford and Cobb singled, filling the bases. Rossman grounded to Tannehill, who threw wildly to first, allowing Coughlin, Crawford, and Cobb to score. The latter made a great slide at the plate to get there in time."

DN — Nothing at all.

Chicago Inter Ocean (CHIO) — "D. Jones hit to left, but was forced by Coughlin, Tannehill to Rohe. Donohue fumbled Crawford's grounder, and Cobb hit to left, filling the bases with but one out. Rossman beat out a grounder to Tannehill and Coughlin scored. Tannehill threw Rossman's grounder off to one side, and Crawford and Cobb were able to score before the ball was retrieved. The round ended on Payne's grounder to Rohe."

Chicago Record-Herald (CHRECHLD) — "D. Jones singled, but was forced by Coughlin. Crawford scratched a hit to Donohue and Cobb's single to left filled the sacks. Rossman dribbled a slow grounder to Tannehill. He had no chance to get Jones at the plate and threw to first to nail the batsman, but the heave was wide and Donohue failed to stop it. The ball rolled out into right field and before it was recovered all the base runners had scored, although Rossman got no farther than first. The next two men were thrown out by Rohe."

Chicago Tribune (CHT) — "D. Jones opened the trouble box by scratching a lob just over short field safely. Coughlin forced him at second. Donohue fumbled Crawford's bounder. Cobb pushed a single to left, but Coughlin was held on third. Rossman hit a slow one to Tannehill, who bet the runner with his throw all right, but Donohue muffed it, trying to avoid a collision. The ball rolled so far away that three runners scored on the mishap. Rohe tossed out the next two."

Fourth Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

DFP — "In the fourth, Rossman singled to left, made third on a couple of infield outs, and scored when Schaefer's fast grounder got through Davis.

DJ — "Rossman scored the next run, in the fourth, when he singled, advanced two bases on as many infield outs, and scored when Davis failed to draw the bead on Schaefer's grounder."

DN — Nothing at all.

CHIO — "Detroit added another run in the fourth, on a hit by Rossman, Downs's sacrifice, Schmidt's out, and Davis's error."

CHRECHLD — "Rossman started more trouble in the fourth by hitting to left and taking third on two outs. Schaefer hit to Davis and the ball was fumbled, Rossman scoring."

CHT — "In the fourth a single, a sacrifice, and Davis's fumble let in the fourth Tiger."

Sixth Inning — Detroit scored 3 runs

DFP — "Rossman started the bother after Cobb was gone; he whaled a triple into right. Downs hit to left, scoring Rossman, and went to second while Dougherty was figuring where he would throw the ball. This gave Schmidt a chance to single Downs home, and he hit into left. Dougherty tried to get Downs at the plate, but threw wildly and Schmidt went all the way to third on the error. Thence he tallied when Schaefer cut loose a nice drive to center field."

DJ — "With one gone, Rossman connected for three bases. Downs singled, scoring Rossman, and took second when the ball was relayed too late to the plate. Schmidt singled to left and Downs tallied, Dougherty making a poor throw to the plate. This enabled Schmidt to get around to third base. Schaefer hit safely and scored Schmidt."

DN — Nothing at all.

CHIO — "Doubles by Rossman and Downs, singles by Schmidt and Schaefer, and Sullivan's error allowed the Tigers to add three more [runs] in the sixth."

CHRECHLD — "With Cobb gone in the sixth, Rossman ripped a three-bagger over first and scored when Downs hit to left. Dougherty loafed on the hit and gave Downs an extra base. Schmidt and Schaefer followed with singles, scoring Downs and Schmidt, the latter having taken two extra bases on Dougherty's wild throw to the plate.

CHT — "The sixth saw White's finish. With one out, Rossman pulled a hot one just inside first base and made three corners on it. Rohe's relay on the play shot past Tannehill, and in retrieving the ball White wrenched himself so that he limped painfully back to the slab. Downs hit a single into left, scoring Rossman, and made a double of it because Dougherty slept. Schmidt scored Downs with a single to left, and reached third when Dougherty's throw shot past Sullivan. Schaefer singled Schmidt home."

Seventh Inning — Detroit scored 2 runs

DFP — "Jones walked in the seventh and scored ahead of Cobb on the latter's four-sack smash to the fence."

DJ — "In the seventh inning, with Jones on first, Cobb hit for a home run and added two runs to Detroit's total."

DN — Nothing at all, although this was mentioned that Cobb's home run — "That home run hit by Cobb was one of the cleanest drives ever made on the Chicago lot." No other information was given.

CHIO — "With two men out and D. Jones on third in the seventh, Cobb smashed a home run drive to center field."

CHRECHLD — "Owen loomed up on the slab in the seventh and gave D. Jones a pass. Coughlin sacrificed and Crawford's long fly to F. Jones made the second out. Then Cobb swiped a hit through center which F. Jones just touched with his bare fingers. Cobb tore around the sacks and made a home run without hitting the ball out of the lot."

CHT — "Owen replaced White in the seventh, and a pass to D. Jones and Cobb's home run through left center scored more runs."

CONCLUSIONS:

- Schmidt actually scored 1 run in the game (not 0 runs as shown on the official DBD sheets).
- Schmidt actually scored 33 runs for the entire 1907 season (not 32 runs as shown on the official DBD sheets and the various baseball encyclopedias and websites).
- Payne actually scored 0 runs in the game (not 1 run as shown on the official DBD sheets).
- Payne actually scored 16 runs for the entire 1907 season (not 17 runs as shown on the official DBD sheets and the various baseball encyclopedias and websites).

NOTE: The following statement was given in the DFP account of the game — “Detroit made a couple of changes in its team. Payne was to catch the game, and batted in the first inning, but as soon as the Tigers got a lead of three, [Manager] Jennings decided to switch to Schmidt, who is in better shape than the other catcher, and sent him behind the bat.” This statement is significant since it means that Payne (who had only one at bat) could not have scored in the sixth inning; Schmidt (who replaced Payne and had three at bats, including an RBI single in the sixth inning) scored in the sixth inning.

October 1, 1907 — Detroit at Washington — Detroit scored 5 runs

Sixth Inning — Detroit scored 3 runs

DFP — “It went into the sixth, and Schaefer and Crawford had been disposed of when the storm broke. Cobb started it by singling to center, after two strikes had been put over on him. Rossman doubled down the left field foul line. The ball went into the overflow patrons, holding the hit to a double. This stopped Cobb at third. Coughlin then produced the timely hit, walloping a two-baser to right field, scoring Cobb and Rossman. Schmidt also was on the job, placing a line single to center, sending Coughlin home. Schmidt took second on the throw to the plate, but was left when O’Leary sent a grounder to Shipke.”

Coughlin then shot a clean double to to right field, Cobb and Rossman coming home. Schmidt was good for a single to deep center on which Coughlin hurried across the pan.”

WES — “Schaefer started the sixth by striking out. Crawford flied to Delahanty. Cobb got a single, Rossman a double, Coughlin a double, and Schmidt a single. Result, three runs. O’Leary ended the inning by grounding to Shipke and being thrown out at first.”

WHLD — “Cobb singled to center and trotted to third on Rossman’s double into the crowd. Coughlin’s two-bagger sent in Cobb and Rossman, and Coughlin followed his teammates when Schmidt hit along the third base foul line.” ... PBP “Details of the Game” — “Schaefer [was] out, O’Brien to Blankenship. Crawford tried to smack it out of the lot, but the ball went straight up and dropped into Delahanty’ glove. Cobb [singled] into center [and Rossman] poled one into the crowd for two bases, and both registered on Coughlin’s double to right, which Milan could not quite reach. Coughlin scored on Schmidt’s hit.”

WP — “Schaefer was out O’Brien to Blankenship. Crawford ballooned to Delahanty and Cobb singled to center. Rossman doubled down the third base line, putting Cobb on third, and Coughlin scored both with a double to right. Schmidt singled to left and Coughlin scored. O’Leary [was] out, Shipke to Blankenship.”

WTMS — Nothing at all.

DFP — “In the seventh there were two down when Schaefer hit to center. He stole second base in a hurry. Crawford lined out a long single , and Schaefer went home on it. Cobb couldn’t deliver this time, and flied to C. Jones.”

DJ — “In the seventh Detroit adde another [run] for good measure after two had gone out. Schaefer singled and promptly stole second. Crawford hit him home.”

October 2, 1907 (first game) — Detroit at Washington — Detroit scored 9 runs

Smith was taken out and Falkenberg substituted. He struck out Crawford, but followed this feat by throwing poorly to first, and Jones, who was on third, trotted home. Cobb singled and Schaefer took third. Cobb stole second, and both men scored when Coughlin hit safely.” ... “Jones opened with a single to right. He and Schaefer played the hit and run successfully, Schaefer hitting a liner where Delahanty had been standing, Joes taking third. Smith was taken out and Falkenberg substituted. In an effort to catch Schaefer off first Falkenberg threw poorly, and before Blankenship could recover the ball Jones had scored. Crawford struck out, but Cobb singled, sending Schaefer to third. Fifth Inning — Detroit scored 1 run

Milan fumbled the ball and Crawford also dug for the plate. Cobb hustled along in an endeavor to make three on the play and was out, Milan to Delahanty to Shipke.”

DJ — “Two were down when Schaefer annexed another hit and Crawford did likewise. Cobb drove low to Milan and Schaefer scored with Crawford on his heels. Cobb came all the way around on the throws, but was out at the plate.” [NOTE: This DJ description does not mention Milan’s fielding error (fumbled pickup of Cobb’s single) and states that Cobb was retired at home, which is not in alignment with other descriptions which state that Cobb was retired at third.]

DN — “Mullin out at first. Jones fouled out. Schaefer singled. Crawford singled. Cobb singled. Schaefer scored. Crawford scored. Cobb took second. Cobb out at third.”

DT — Nothing at all.

WES — Nothing at all.

WHLD — “Delahanty threw Mullin out. D. Jones fouled to Warner. Schaefer singled. In the eighth three singles and an error by Milan netted the Tigers the last two runs of the game.”

WP — “The Tigers clinched it in the eighth when, after two men were out, Schaefer, Crawford, and Cobb singled, which netted a brace of tallies.” ... “Mullin was out, Delahanty to Blankenship. Jones fouled out to Warner. Schaefer singled over second. Crawford singled to right. Cobb singled through Blankenship, and Rossman and Schaefer scored. Cobb was out, Milan to Delahanty to Shipke.” [NOTE: According to the official records, Milan was charged with one fielding error. In the batter-by-batter play-by-play description given in the WP game account no error was mentioned with Milan. However, as stated in the descriptions in the DFP and WHLD game accounts,

Milan fumbled the ball that Cobb hit for a single (the official records showing that Cobb had four hits in five at bats, none of his hits being extra base hits). Since Cobb was put out at third base (Milan to Delahanty to Shipke), he had advanced to second on Milan's error (fumble). And, it is, therefore, entirely reasonable (if not mandatory) to conclude that Crawford advanced from first to second (or third) on Cobb's single and then scored as a consequence of Milan's error (fumble).

WTMS — Nothing at all.

Crawford hit into the crowd in center for a pair, Schaefer being held at third under the ground rules. Cobb cleaned up with single and took second on an attempt to get Crawford at the plate. Rossman hit to right, scoring Cobb and died trying to go from first to third while O'Brien was throwing out Coughlin.”

DJ — “Jones was out, Oberlin to first, but Schaefer kept up that awful hitting gait by singling. Crawford hit for two and Cobb followed with a single and sent Schaefer and Crawford home, Cobb taking second on the throw in. Rossman hit, scoring Cobb.”

DN — “Oberlin started things in the box for Washington. After D. Jones was out at first, Schaefer hit, then safeties followed by Crawford, Cobb, and Rossman. Four [hits] in a row. Three runs were put up on the scoreboard.”

DT — Nothing at all.

WES — “Nothing at all.

WHLD — “D. Jones out to Oberlin to Blankenship. Schaefer singled and Crawford doubled into the crowd. Both scored on Cobb’s clout over third. Rossman scored Cobb on a hit to right. O’Brien threw Coughlin out and Blankenship returned the ball in time to play Rossman at third.”

WP — “Jones went out, Oberlin to first. Schaefer singled to left. Crawford doubled into the crowd in center, Schaefer taking third. Cobb singled, scoring Schaefer and Crawford. Rossman singled, scoring Cobb. Coughlin grounded to O’Brien and was out at first. Rossman tried to take third on the play and was out at third.”

WTMS — “Nothing at all.

Second Inning — Detroit scored 3 runs

DFP — “Schmidt led away with a single, and made third when O’Leary’s fast grounder got through Delahanty. Mullin flied to center and Schmidt scored, O’Leary taking second on a throw to the plate. Jones singled O’Leary home, stole second, and made third on a wild pitch. Schaefer was allowed to walk. Crawford hit for a base, sending Jones home. Cobb forced Crawford and Schaefer died at the pan trying to score on the play.”

DJ — “Schmidt singled to open it [the second] and O’Leary hit through Delahanty, Schmidt making third. Mullin lifted one to center and Schmidt scored, O’Leary going to second on the throw in. Jones hit safely, scoring O’Leary. Jones stole second and took third on a wild pitch. Schaefer walked, but Crawford hit and Jones scored.”

DN — “Smith took Oberlin’s place in the second inning. Schmidt started his finish with a single, and made third when Delahanty mishandled O’Leary’s grounder. The on Mullin’s fly, Schmidt scored. Jones singled O’Leary home. Schaefer walked. Crawford hit, and Jones crossed the pan.”

DT — Nothing at all.

WES — “Nothing at all.

WHLD — “Schmidt hit to center. O’Leary’s grounder went through Delahanty. Schmidt counted on Mullin’s fly to center. D. Jones’s single scored O’Leary. Schaefer walked. Jones stole, made third on a wild pitch, and scored when O’Brien booted Crawford’s chance. Cobb forced Crawford, and Delahanty returned to the plate, retiring Schaefer.” [NOTE: This WHLD description (stating that Jones scored on a fielding error by O’Brien on Crawford’s chance) is not in alignment with the descriptions in the DFP and DJ accounts (which state that Jones scored on Crawford’s hit). According to the official DBD records, Crawford had three (3) hits in four (4) at bats (plus a walk) in his five plate appearances. According to the batter-by-batter play-by-play account for the entire game given in the WHLD account, here are the details of what Crawford did in each of his plate appearances — (1, first inning) doubled; (2, second inning) safe on O’Brien’s fielding error; (3, fourth inning) walked; (4, sixth inning) singled; (5, ninth inning) singled. Therefore, it is concluded that Crawford did not single in the second inning (as stated in the DFP and DJ accounts. However, because the fielding error committed by shortstop O’Brien was a “booted chance” (i.e., likely a fumbled grounder), Crawford should receive RBI credit for the run Jones scored on the play — i.e., with only one out, Jones (who was on third base) would have ordinarily scored on Crawford’s grounder, even if the error had not been committed and Crawford would have been retired. It is further pointed out that, according to the official DBD records, O’Brien was charged with two (fielding errors), although the newspaper box scores show O’Brien charged with three (3) fielding errors. According to the batter-by-batter play-by-play account for the entire game given in the WHLD account, here are the details of the errors committed by O’Brien — (1, second inning) booted chance on ball hit by Crawford, who was safe on the fielding error; (2 third inning) made poor throw on ball hit by Rossman, who was safe on the fielding error; (3, ninth inning) error (details not given) on ball hit by O’Leary, who was safe on the fielding error. According to the official DBD records, O’Leary had no hits (blank cell) in the game. Therefore, O’Brien’s second-inning and ninth-inning errors were recognized in the official DBD records. Thus, O’Brien’s third-inning error (on the ball hit by Rossman) was not recognized by the official DBD records. Rossman had two (2) hits in the game in five (at bats). According to the batter-by-batter play-by-play account for the entire game in the WHLD account, here are the details of what Rossman did in each of his at bats — (1, first inning) singled to right; (2, third inning) safe on fielding error (poor throw) by shortstop O’Brien; (3, fourth inning) gave pitcher Smith an easy chance; (4, seventh inning) doubled into the crowd; (5, ninth inning) grounded out, short to first. So, since Rossman collected his two official hits in the first and seventh innings, his third-inning at bat was not an official hit. Therefore, I conclude that O'Brien actually committed three fielding errors in the game, not two fielding errors as stated in the official DBD records.]

WP — "Schmidt singled. O'Leary was safe on Delahanty's error. Mullin flied to Milan, Schmidt scoring. Jones singled, scoring O'Leary. Jones stole second, and wild pitch put him on third. Schaefer walked. O'Brien booted Crawford's grounder, Jones scoring. Cobb forced Crawford. Schaefer tried to score on the play and was out."

WTMS — "Nothing at all."

Ninth Inning — Detroit scored 4 runs

DFP — "Schaefer opened for Detroit with his eighth single of the day. Crawford also drove one in the distant field. Cobb bunted and beat the play, filling the bases. Schaefer scored while O'Brien was throwing out Rossman. Delahanty bungled Coughlin's grounder and Crawford romped home. Schmidt singled Cobb in and O'Leary hit Coughlin home. Mullin and O'Leary were doubled, ending the inning with four runs home."

DJ — "In the ninth inning Schaefer singled and Crawford followed him. Cobb beat a bunt, filling the bases, and Rossman came up. Schaefer scored on Rossman's out, O'Brien to Blankenship, and Crawford came home on Delahanty bungling Coughlin's grounder. Schmidt singled, scoring Cobb, and O'Leary clouted safely, letting Coughlin add one [run] for the glory of the cause."

DN — "Schaefer made his eighth hit of the day to begin things. Crawford likewise hit, and Cobb beat out a bunt. Then the sacks were crowded. Schaefer scored on Rossman's out, an Crawford raced home on Delahanty's fumble of Coughlin's grounder. Schmidt singled for the third time in the game and Cobb scored. Then O'Leary hit Coughlin in."

DT — Nothing at all.

WES — "Nothing at all."

WHLD — "Schaefer singled to center. Crawford hit to left. Cobb beat out a hit to Smith. Rossman [was] out, short to first, Schaefer and Crawford scored. Coughlin safe, Delahanty's error. Schmidt beat out a short hit and Coughlin scored on O'Brien's error. Mullin hit into a double play." [NOTE: This WHLD description, stating that Coughlin scored on O'Brien's fielding error (on a ball hit by O'Leary) is not in alignment with the descriptions given in the DFP and DJ accounts, which state that Coughlin scored on O'Leary's safe hit. As pointed out above (see Note in WHLD description for second inning), according to the official DBD records, O'Leary had zero hits (blank cell) in the entire game. Therefore, because Coughlin scored from second base on the fielding error committed by O'Brien on O'Leary's batted ball, O'Leary should not receive RBI credit for the run scored by Coughlin. That Coughlin was on second base when O'Brien committed his error is based on the following — Coughlin reached first base on Delahanty's error (bungled grounder); Coughlin advance to second on a short hit by the next batter, Schmidt; Coughlin scored on O'Brien's fielding error on the ball hit by the next batter, O'Leary.]

WP — "Schaefer singled. Crawford singled to left. Cobb hit to Smith and beat it out. Rossman was out, O'Brien to first, Schaefer scoring. Coughlin was safe on Delahanty's error, Crawford scoring. Schmidt beat out an infield hit. O'Leary singled, scoring Cobb and Coughlin. Mullin and O'Leary were doubled up, Delahanty to first."

CONCLUSION:

- Archer did not score any runs in the second game; according to my research, Archer did not play in the second game on October 2, 1907. The official DBD records show that Archer played in one of the two games on October 2; it was not specified if Archer played in the first or second game; the official records show that he was credited with one (1) run scored in the (unspecified) October 2 game.
- Archer actually scored 4 runs for the entire 1907 season (not 6 runs as shown on the official DBD sheets and the various baseball encyclopedias and websites). As dealt with above, Archer was affected by a runs-scored error, in the October 1 game — the official DBD records credit him with one (1) run scored in the game; according to my research, Archer scored 0 runs because he did not play in the game.
